Mumbai February 24, 2026: In-line with its mission to grow a charging network that is accessible, fast, and dependable, TATA.ev, India's largest four-wheeler EV manufacturer, has collaborated with Shell India Mobility to introduce 21 new TATA.ev x Shell Mega Charging Hubs across Bengaluru, Chennai, Mysore, Pune, Vadodara. Equipped with 120 kW fast chargers for quick, reliable charging with minimal wait times, TATA.ev x Shell Mega Charging Hubs offer a premium experience for EV owners, with a manned marshal to help with any queries around the process of charging an EV, fresh food & beverages at Shell Select and Deli2go stores, and hygienic restrooms. As a special benefit, owners of Tata EVs can also enjoy curated offers on the menu at the stores.

This milestone brings the TATA.ev Mega Charging Hubs network to over 130 operational sites across India, as the company continues expanding the country's charging infrastructure under its 'Open Collaboration 2.0' framework. Through this initiative, TATA.ev is partnering with Charge Point Operators (CPOs) to create high-speed charging corridors along key intercity corridors and urban hubs. The company aims to introduce over 400,000 charging points, including 500 TATA.ev Mega Charging Hubs by 2027, enabling seamless long-distance EV travel in India.

Introducing the TATA.ev x Shell Mega Charging Hubs, Balaje Rajan, Chief Strategy Officer, Tata Passenger Electric Mobility Ltd., and Tata Motors Passenger Vehicles Ltd., said, "EV infrastructure is fundamental to accelerating India's transition to electric mobility. As the leader of the 4-wheeler electric revolution, TATA.ev has consistently taken the initiative to build and co-create a fast, reliable, and convenient public charging network through our TATA.ev Mega Charging Hubs. Today, in partnership with Shell India, we are proud to introduce new TATA.ev x Shell Mega Charging Hubs across key cities, offering a combined capacity of 2500 kW. This expansion reinforces our commitment to making charging seamless and ubiquitous for EV users across India."

Commenting on the launch, Sanjay Varkey, Director Mobility, Shell India Markets Private Limited said, "India's mobility landscape is evolving rapidly, and a strong, high-quality charging infrastructure is essential to this transition. Shell is pleased to partner with TATA.ev to accelerate the development of a robust national EV charging network, uniting two trusted leaders to set a new benchmark for charging excellence. Our MegaCharging Hubs deliver industry leading reliability, world-class safety, and a premium, seamless charging experience through ultra-fast charging and premium customer services. Together, combining Shell's global energy expertise with TATA.ev's electric mobility leadership, we are committed to building a best-in-class EV charging ecosystem defined by performance, safety, and superior customer experience."
