Pune, India | 10th February, 2026 — Stellantis, a leading global automaker, and Tata Motors Passenger Vehicles, India's leading manufacturer of cars and SUVs, commemorated 20-years of successful partnering via their 50:50 joint venture, Fiat India Automobiles Private Limited (FIAPL). To mark the occasion, both companies signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) today to explore further opportunities for collaboration across manufacturing, engineering and supply chain in India and overseas.

Building on this successful partnership and leveraging Stellantis' global expertise and Tata Motors Passenger Vehicles' deep local capabilities, FIAPL has developed robust strength across manufacturing, powertrain, and supply-chain excellence, laying a strong foundation for expanding future collaboration.

Speaking on the milestone and the opportunity ahead, Grégoire Olivier, Chief Operating Officer of Stellantis Asia Pacific, said: "FIAPL stands as a testament to what two strong organizations can achieve together. As we commemorate this milestone, we remain focused on evolving the partnership to support future-ready manufacturing, innovation, and sustainable growth in the region."

Shailesh Chandra, Managing Director & CEO, Tata Motors Passenger Vehicles, added: "Our partnership with Stellantis through FIAPL reflects the strength of a long-standing collaboration built on trust, shared values and a common vision. We look forward to deepening this relationship with Stellantis in the years ahead."
